GRIDLOCKED

Traffic grinds to a halt as more than 3,000 vehicles converge on town centre car parks for charity 'cruise'

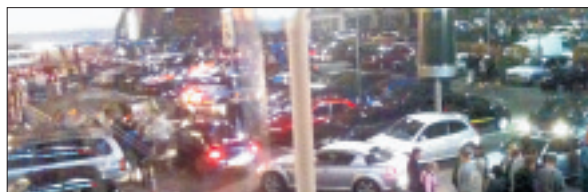

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

POLICE this week defended their handling of an unregulated car "cruise" which caused chaos in Harlow on Saturday night when more than 3,000 vehicles gridlocked parts of the town.

Traffic came to a standstill as owners of modified cars headed for the retail parks off Edinburgh Way for the "hyper-meet", which had been advertised as a charity event raising money for Children In Need.

Although the majority of shops and businesses were closed by the time the first vehicles arrived at around 7pm, customers using the Cineworld cinema and local restaurants found themselves trapped for up to two hours as police struggled to clear blocked roads by setting up one-way systems and diverting traffic away from the area.

Officers on the scene reported that intruder alarms at shuttered premises were set off by booming sound systems and revving exhausts, while police confirmed they were now investigating a number of complaints of speeding and "anti-social driving".

TOP GEAR: The view from Cineworld at the Queensgate Centre

Inspector Tom Mitchell said 18 fixed penalty notices were issued to drivers on the night, while two men were arrested in connection with unrelated offences.

"The gathering of so many extra cars caused considerable disruption to local businesses and residents," he said. "There were people out for family meals and cinema trips who couldn't get home for hours because of the sheer number of cars clogging up the car parks and roads."

"There were no marshalls and the organisers had no idea how many cars were going to turn up."

"Any other event of this size would need to be arranged with consent from the relevant authorities and have proper procedures in place to minimise disruption, but organisers don't want to pay to hire a venue or get a licence."

Asked whether the police had been informed that the event was due to take place, he said: "The only reason we knew the event was happening was because we have officers monitoring social networking websites. We were never contacted directly by anyone involved."

"If we hadn't been fortunate enough to get extra road policing officers to the scene to try and sort out the traffic chaos we would have had to deal with a depleted presence in the town centre on a Saturday night."

Harlow Council has previously taken legal action to ban cruise meets in the town's retail parks. Councillor Joel Charles, portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said the authority would not rule out going back to court in a bid to prevent further rallies.

"Nobody wants to stop young people having fun and we're aware there seems to have been some effort to collect money for Children In Need at this rally," he said. "However, it's certainly not a justification to bring part of the town to a grinding halt."

But several of the cruisers who attended Saturday's meet contacted the Star to complain that police had made the traffic problems worse by blocking the entrances to car parks before they were full," one said.

"Some people had travelled hundreds of miles to take part and help raise money for Children In Need, but they were turned away by police blocking entrance to the car parks when they weren't even full," one said.

"The fact is that no-one broke the law by attending, and once again there was absolutely no trouble. It was just a group of likeminded people sharing their passion for modified cars."

Another added: "I'm sick and tired of us being branded 'chavs' and 'boy racers' by people who have no idea what happens at these meets. This was a brilliant event and no doubt we'll be back again next year bigger and better than before."

● Do you think that Harlow Council should take legal action to ban future cruises? Vote in our online poll at www.harlowstar.co.uk.

Callous thief dumps dog's ashes in drain

A HEARTBROKEN pet owner was left distraught after the thief who stole his car dumped a box containing the ashes of his beloved dog in a drain.

Author Philip Moore (50), of Berecroft, was determined to give Milo – a Jack Russell who had been his companion for more than 16 years – a proper send-off after it had to be put to sleep last week.

But after leaving the dog's ashes in his red Suzuki Swift in preparation for the following day's journey to scatter them, he was horrified to return the following morning to find his car had been stolen.

"Milo had always loved to sleep on the dashboard of my car so I'd left the box of ashes there to give him one last night in his favourite spot," said Mr Moore, who only moved to Harlow a month ago.

"The car was parked in a proper space where people could see it and I never thought for a second that it wouldn't be safe. When I came out the next morning to find it gone my heart just stopped."

After a frantic search he found the vandalised vehicle on the next street with the engine still running.

"Windows were smashed and the car had been driven into a wall," he said. "The engine had also been left running, but the worst thing was that they had taken Milo's ashes. I was utterly heartbroken."

Mr Moore called on his sister, Sharon Balloo, to help look for the box of ashes. The pair eventually found the empty container next to a nearby drain.

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"My brother was inconsolable when he saw the ashes all over the drain and street," said Sharon, who lives in Epping. "He was on his knees trying to scoop up what was left; it was just devastating. That dog meant so much to him."

According to Sharon, it was clear that the box contained ashes.

"It had 'Milo, put to rest on November 5' clearly written on the top so it would have been obvious to anyone what it was," she said. "The mindless cruelty of it all is just incomprehensible."

She added: "I only hope that one day those responsible have something of sentiment taken from them to truly understand the pain they have caused."

A police spokesperson called the act "simply callous and unnecessary" and appealed for anyone with information regarding the incident, which occurred between 10pm on Friday and 5.30am on Saturday to call them on 101 (or 0300 333 4444 if calling from outside Essex).

County chiefs to face waste plant protestors

RESIDENTS and business owners opposed to recently approved proposals to build a new waste transfer station in Harlow are being given a chance to voice their concerns at a meeting with Essex County Council leaders tomorrow (Friday).

The open public meeting, which has been organised by Harlow MP Robert Halfon, will give those opposed to the new development on the Templefields industrial estate the opportunity to raise their concerns directly with county council leader Peter Martin and county councillor Kevin Bentley, cabinet member responsible for economic development and waste.

Mr Halfon, who will also be attending, said: "I have organised this meeting with Mr Martin and residents so they can directly raise their concerns and see if we can make Essex County Council think again."

"If they won't reconsider then it is also a chance to look at any improvements that can be made to the original proposals for a better compromise."

Mr Halfon added: "I have and will continue to do everything I can to lobby against this waste transfer station which I still think is being built in the wrong location."

The meeting takes place at the Harlow Enterprise Hub in Edinburgh Way, starting at 10am. Anyone wanting to attend should first contact Michael Hustwitt on (01279) 445599.

Mr Hustwitt, who is leading a recently formed action group fighting the proposals, has also reminded residents that they can still show their support by signing an online petition at <http://cmis.essexcc.gov.uk/essexcmis5/Petitions.aspx>.

MPs back Halfon's call for action on fuel tax

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon's hard-fought campaign to cut fuel duty has won the backing of MPs following a three-hour debate in the House of Commons.

Mr Halfon, who secured the debate after more than 100,000 people signed his Government e-petition, urged ministers to abandon January's proposed fuel duty increase of 3p per litre which he claimed would "cripple" the economy.

"There can be no doubt now about the seriousness of this issue," he said. "Millions of members of the public, thousands of businesses and over 100 Parliamentarians have made it 100 per cent clear to the Government that fuel duty needs to go down and not increase next year."

"This is the number one issue facing families and businesses across the UK. They can suffer no longer."

More than 100 MPs of all parties have signed the motion so far after Prime Minister David Cameron opted for a single-line whip which allowed backbench Tory MPs to vote in favour.

However, the result of the vote is not binding and a final decision is not expected to be made by ministers until later in the year.

Mr Halfon told the Star the debate had gone well.

"It was probably the longest day I've had since being an MP but I felt it went really well," he said. "It was particularly encouraging to receive support from all parties, and shows that fuel duty is an issue affecting families and businesses all over the country."

He added: "I will continue to lobby the Government on this, not just for Harlow motorists but for motorists everywhere. I hope they will listen."

Eight men, one Robin Reliant and 920 miles

A GROUP of burley depot workers will be taking it in turns to squeeze themselves into a three-wheeler for a fundraising drive in aid of the Alzheimer's Society.

The eight men, who all work at the Tesco depot at Pinnacles in Harlow, are planning to drive the length of the UK crammed into a Robin Reliant which they bought on internet auction site eBay to raise money for the dementia charity.

Working in teams of two with each pair driving for one leg of the 920-mile journey, they will take turns squeezing themselves into the vehicle to complete the John O'Groats to Lands End trek in just four days.

"It's going to be a tough challenge but we know we can do it," said transport team manager Bob Braund.

"We're not exactly slim guys so cramming ourselves into a Robin Reliant won't be comfortable, but we're willing to do it to raise money for such a worthy cause.

"We're hoping to complete our journey in four days, but the car only goes 50 miles per hour so we'll have to start very early and finish very late in the day!"

By CATHERINE JONES
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Mr Braund will be joined by Bob Hawkes (61), Jason Aston (45), Martin Wannell (39), Julian Mellor (41), Dennis Beisse (42), Simon Laraman (35) and Mark Lockwood (42).

So far the group have already raised an impressive £5,000 for the Alzheimer's Society, which is currently the supermarket giant's charity of the year.

They are hoping to boost the total to more than £8,500 before setting off on their adventure next Thursday.

They join thousands of other Tesco employees across the UK helping to raise £5m for the Alzheimer's Society to help build a better future for people suffering from dementia.

Alzheimer's Society fundraiser Becca McRow said: "We're delighted to be Tesco Charity of the Year and think the Harlow staff are absolutely fantastic for organising such an exciting challenge to raise vital funds for dementia. Good luck to them all!"

To sponsor the team, visit their web page at www.justgiving.com/bob-braund.

Decorate a dove for town Christmas tree

A SCHEME allowing people to place messages to loved ones on Harlow's main Christmas tree is now up and running.

The Doves project is run by the town's Citizens Advice Bureau and Friends of Harlow CAB. For a small donation, people can decorate a paper dove with their own messages and these will then be placed on the tree in Broad Walk.

"This event is gradually becoming a tradition and everyone looks forward to it every year," said Lou Moon, chair of Friends of Harlow CAB.

"The children in particular enjoy writing the messages and making the Doves bright and glittery, whilst those a little older come along to either pay respects to someone they have lost or post a message to a family member or friend who can't be with them at Christmas."

The scheme, which started last weekend, is carried out at a stand under the Christmas tree and will be running every Saturday up until December 17.

Trust's funding boost for wheelchair racer

A HARLOW wheelchair racer is moving closer to achieving his ambition of winning a gold medal in next year's Paralympics after receiving a grant from a leading disability charity.

Richard Chiassaro (29), of Seymours, was awarded the money from the Papworth Trust to help fund equipment costs as part of a fundraising campaign to help more local athletes succeed in their goals.

Richard, who was born with spina bifida, only started wheelchair racing three years ago, but is currently ranked second in the UK for 100m, 200m and 400m and ninth in Europe over 100m and 200m.

"This grant will make a real difference to me in my bid to perform as a top athlete," he said. "Wheelchair racing is an expensive sport and the money will probably go towards gloves or tyres."

"I achieved my current rank in just three years - give me another three and who knows what's possible!"

Hospice lottery

The winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, November 11 is ticket holder 275476, who lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 892371, who also lives in Harlow.

Pair launch support group for carers of alcoholics

TWO women with first-hand experience of providing help and support for someone with an alcohol problem are starting a local support group for other people in the same position. Rose and Isobel, who both live in Harlow but who have asked for their surnames to be withheld to protect their loved ones, decided to launch CAMunity to coincide with Alcohol Awareness Week.

"Caring for someone who misuses alcohol can be very stressful because you never know what you will have to deal with next," said Isobel.

"Someone who is drinking heavily has no inhibitions or consideration for anyone else. They can be physically aggressive one moment then suddenly crash out in an inconvenient place the next.

"It can also cause a lot of arguments in a family, and when there are children around it is very hard to protect them from what is happening."

The pair say they decided to set up the group after finding local support services limited and mainly focused on the abusers themselves.

"Because of the stigma attached to alcohol-misuse, it can feel very lonely," said Rose. "The worst thing is feeling there is no-one who you can talk to."

"An important aim of the group is to provide emotional support for carers and an opportunity for them to talk in confidence to others with similar experiences.

"We hope there will be benefits from sharing information with each other and to draw on the support of professionals who can discuss how to motivate change and deal with difficult situations."

Anyone interested in joining the group, which holds its first meeting on November 21, can contact Rose on 07830 528568 or send an e-mail to camunity@hotmail.co.uk.

Will council fund a judicial review?

SIR, As I understand the situation, the only way to overturn the planning permission and stop the building of the waste transfer station at Templefields is by judicial review.

If the local MP, leader of Harlow Council, local councillors and the planning committee have objected to this and are willing to give their backing to fighting the development, will the council as a whole agree to fund a judicial review and, if required, take it to court on behalf of the residents, school, businesses and homeowners of Harlow?

Promising support is one thing, providing it is another. After all, it was the vote of Cllr Mike Garnett that ensured this blight was brought to our doorstep.

As for county councillor Kevin Bentley's assertions (Star, October 27), it would be beneficial for him to read the reports from Brighton and Hove councillors and their director of public health (amongst others) stating that although assurances were given there would be no noise, odour, vermin or health issues, this has not proved to be the case.

The opposite is in fact the reality, they say. It is also reported that at the waste management facility at Alconbury in Cambridgeshire, pest control remove upwards of 50 rats each week.

With regard to the comments about lorry movements, the additional 90 plus lorry movements per day added to another 300 per day from the new River Way waste site will ensure that many parts of Harlow – not just Edinburg Way – will be gridlocked for most of every day of the week.

Straight in the bin

SIR, I couldn't agree more with Mrs McDonald, about junk mail (Letters, November 3). There is hardly a day goes by without at least one flyer coming through my letterbox.

By far the majority are for pizzas or Indian takeaways. My weekend paper is also full with at least five leaflets and, even more annoying, the TV Times is often sealed in plastic to hold in place an Argos mini catalogue.

I do seem to have one advantage though as I often find that the delivery of flyers has cut out the middle man (me) as I find stacks of them in my recycling bin. I shouldn't think that the people paying him or her to deliver the flyers would be too pleased by this.

Tiny tot's tipple

SIR, I'm writing with reference to the lady of 92 who was refused a bottle of whisky in a shop because she could not produce required ID.

I'm curious; when their policy is taken literally at the expense of common sense, what would happen in a reverse scenario?

If a four-year-old girl tries to buy a bottle of whisky with what appears to be the required ID, would they serve her?

I can see the headline now: "Tiny tot takes home tipple".

Threat to pond

SIR, This is my second time of writing to the Star regarding the state of the hospital pond.

Every time I take my dog for a walk there is less and less water and more and more rubbish thrown in.

Why are we losing all our beauty spots? I thought we were supposed to protect the wildlife and surrounding areas.

Over the years many families have spent many happy hours there, sitting quietly, fishing or enjoying the pleasure of just relaxing. Also schools and playgroups have taken children there.

Are we prepared to let this just disappear? I truly hope not. Many people remark on this when walking by on the pathway.

Strip him of his title

SIR, I have just read with absolute disgust that disgraced peer and former Essex County Council leader Lord Hanningfield is, at some point to be reinstated to the House of Lords

Not only should he lose his title, he should not be allowed back in Parliament after committing a criminal offence.

He claims he was going to pay the money back. So that makes it all okay, does it?

He is also seeking to take legal action against the police because he says he suffered at their hands. But what about the public who have suffered because of his dishonesty? Can we also seek compensation? I think not.

The law should be taking everything that was made through fraudulent means from these people to serve as a lesson to the rest who think they will continue to get away with it.

The law should show no favor to anyone.

Just an observation

SIR, Emma Bird is quite right in stating that not all teenagers are hooligans (Letters, October 27). However, she fails to realise that my comment was just an observation, a snapshot in time.

I didn't make a wild sweeping statement. The queue of youngsters outside the pizza takeaway was clear to see, as was the dropping of wrappers where they sat.

It's true the grassed area is for everyone but groups of youngsters, however polite and harmless they are, tend to be intimidating without them realising it.

Let's all support our town market

If you were in the town centre at the weekend I hope you caught the switching on of our Christmas lights.

It's an annual event, of course, but this year's choice of the market area is particularly significant. It's no secret that, across the country, markets have been struggling and ours is no exception.

This year the council has worked to breathe new life into the market. In August we completed the children's play area and the large tree planter pots that surround it.

Now I know the planters did divide opinion, but the whole idea is to create a fun environment where families want to spend time. We needed to soften the open concrete and reduce that wind-tunnel effect, and I think we've done that.

The major town centre redevelopment planned for 2012 will also benefit the market area. But in the meantime we will keep encouraging visitors and shoppers to visit our stallholders.

By Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson

As part of that, we have backed a promotion which will mean anyone spending £3 or more at any stall after December 19 stands to win a £200 cash prize - with the draw taking place, handily enough, on Christmas Eve.

Many of our stallholders are local people, some with links to the market going back years (in one case 40 years). As householders struggle with shrinking budgets, the keen prices on offer in markets make them a more worthwhile enterprise than ever.

ONE thing I hope you missed in Harlow this weekend was the so-called cruise rally which swamped Edinburg Way.

Nobody wants to stop young people having fun but this event caused serious inconvenience lasting several hours for others out in our town.

We have taken legal steps before to stop these gatherings and we'll do so again to stop Harlow being gridlocked.

Crowds gather for light show

THOUSANDS of people wrapped up warm to enjoy a day of family fun in Harlow town centre on Saturday as the stars of this year's Playhouse pantomime switched on the town's Christmas lights.

Live music, funfair rides and members of the cast of Peter Pan made sure this year's event was bigger and better than ever, with activities taking place at various locations across the town centre.

The crowds in Market Square were kept entertained with live sets by bands from Burnt Mill School and Passmores Academy, while East Gate was transformed into a magical festive funfair.

Wacky street performers including gliding angels, a stilt-walking fairy and a walking Christmas tree roamed the streets throughout the afternoon, while shoppers visiting the Harvey Centre were treated to a visit from Santa Claus and his reindeer.

The lights in the Water Gardens were then turned on by the panto cast and Harlow Council chairman Mike Garnett before they followed a procession led by traditional Chinese lion dancers down to Market Square to switch on the glittering illuminations in Broad Walk.

Cllr Russell Perrin, Harlow Council's

portfolio holder for regeneration and enterprise, said: "Switching on the lights in the market area is the first major public event held there and it was heartening to see a big crowd for the ceremony."

The event was organised by Harlow Council on behalf of the Harlow Town Centre Partnership and supported by Harlow Playhouse, Harvey Shopping Centre, Liberty's nightclub and The Water Gardens.

In quiet contemplation, the thoughts of Joining members of the public were

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, representatives of Harlow Council, war

The MP said afterwards: "Of all the Remembrance Sunday services I have attended in Harlow over the past 10 years I think this was the most moving. "To see so many of the town's residents turn out to pay their respects made it very special and shows how it can bring our community together to remember courage and sacrifice and remind us how tradition is an important anchor between the generations."

Councillor Garnett added: "The ceremony at the war memorial in the Town Park was extremely well attended by both the young and old of Harlow. "The service was a fitting way for us to remember those who fought for our freedom in two World Wars and the more recent conflicts. "We especially think of those who have given their lives for their country; we will always remember them."

Veterans' tribute on Armistice Day

WAR veterans paid their respects to those who gave their lives for their country in an Armistice Day parade at the Potter Street War Memorial on Friday morning.

The group of former servicemen were joined by Harlow MP Rob Halfon, Harlow Council vice-chairman Joshua Jolles, local residents and the congregation of St Mary Magdalene Church for a short service at the memorial on Harlow Common before heading back to the church for refreshments.

Second World War veteran Albert Hobdell, who organised the annual event in his capacity as chairman of the League of Gentlemen 95, said: "It was another fantastic turnout. Although it's not as big as the annual civic service on Remembrance Sunday, we seem to be getting more people joining us every year.

"It's so important that we remember those who laid down their lives for our country and it is encouraging to see so many people of all ages turn out to pay their respects. "I'd like to thank church warden Peggy Lambert for helping us organise the event and for providing refreshments. We couldn't have done it without her."

Proposed Fieldes Lock* rail-linked power station development

Bird's eye view of the proposed development from the south illustrating the initial design concept being presented for pre-application consultation

Veolia Environmental Services (UK) Plc (Veolia) is one of three bidders shortlisted by the North London Waste Authority (NLWA) to tender for its North London Fuel Use contract.

To fulfil the requirements of the NLWA contract, we are proposing to develop and operate a rail-linked power station on a site next to the existing gas-fired Rye House power station on land off Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon.

Our public consultation on the proposed power station, launched today, aims to give everyone an early opportunity to comment on our proposals. You can review our plans and send us feedback via the project website at: www.veoliaenvironmentalservices.co.uk/Fieldes-Lock

Alternatively, you can attend one of our public information events where you will be able to view our proposals, speak to members of the project team and leave us your comments - see box opposite for details. Phase one of the consultation closes at 5pm on Friday 16 December 2011. Please make sure you send us your comments by this date.

Location plan of proposed rail-linked power station

Fieldes Lock power station public information events

We are holding six public information events during phase one consultation where you are invited to drop in, review our plans, speak to members of the project team and leave us your comments. These will take place on:

Monday 28th November 2011, Stanstead Abbots Parish Hall, Roydon Road, Stanstead Abbots, SG12 8EZ, 2pm-7pm

Tuesday 29th November 2011, Unit 44, Tower Centre, Hoddesdon, EN11 8UF, 10am-6.30pm

Wednesday 30th November 2011, St Peter's Church Hall, High Street, Roydon, CM19 5EF, 2pm-7pm

Friday 2nd December 2011, Bollescroft House (adjacent to Broxbourne Civic Hall), High Street, Hoddesdon, EN11 8BE, 1pm-6pm

Monday 5th December 2011, St Giles Church Hall, Nazeing Road, Lower Nazeing, EN9 2JN, 6:30pm-9pm

Wednesday 7th December 2011, St Mary's Church Hall, Peldon Road, Great Parndon, Harlow, CM19 4HT, 2pm-7pm

* The development is named Fieldes Lock power station to avoid confusion with Scottish Power's existing Rye House gas-fired power station which is adjacent our proposed development site.

Statement of Community Consultation

Introduction

This Statement of Community Consultation (SOCC) explains how Veolia Environmental Services (UK) Plc (Veolia) will consult members of the public and local communities on proposals to develop and operate a rail-linked power station next to the existing gas-fired Rye House power station on land off Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire.

The proposed facility

The proposed power station will include the generation of low carbon and renewable electricity to be supplied to the National Grid. The total power generation will be enough to power 96,000 homes a year – the equivalent of more than twice the number of homes in Broxbourne Borough today.

This will be achieved by processing a combination of natural gas and approximately 320,000 tonnes a year of Solid Recovered Fuel (SRF) produced from residual waste which is left over after recycling. About 90% of the fuel will be delivered by rail from London and the remainder will be delivered by road.

The proposed power station operation will be enclosed within a building designed to be compatible with its site and setting. The SRF delivered to the site will first be transferred into an enclosed storage bunker before being fed into the furnace where it will be burnt at high temperatures in a fully enclosed and carefully controlled environment. Natural gas will also be added at this point to improve the efficiency of the process. The hot gases produced in the furnace are used to heat water in a boiler to produce steam, which is then used to turn a turbine to generate electricity for the National Grid. Gases leaving the boiler will be treated to ensure they meet emissions standards before they are discharged via two chimneys. The power station technology we are proposing is highly efficient and proven to work safely at similar facilities around the world.

There is the potential for surplus heat from the boiler to be made available for use in a Combined Heat and Power (CHP) system by local businesses which would reduce the amount of gas or electricity that they need. No connection network or infrastructure for a CHP system is included in the current proposals.

The bottom ash produced from burning the SRF will be collected and transported off the site to be recycled into products for use in the construction industry. We plan to transport the ash by rail whenever possible and practical, but there may be a need to transport this material by road.

It is anticipated that construction of the facility will create up to 300 new jobs, whilst the operational facility will create approximately 45 permanent posts and so contribute to the local economy.

The application process

Due to the amount of electricity it will generate, the proposed power station falls within the definition of a 'nationally significant infrastructure project' under the government's Planning Act 2008 (the Act). We have prepared this statement of pre-application consultation in accordance with Section 47 of the Act. This is in the expectation that our Development Consent Order (DCO) for the project will be examined by the Infrastructure Planning Commission (IPC), under section 35 of the Act.

The IPC was formed under the Act to create a new, more efficient planning process for nationally significant infrastructure projects. The IPC will decide on whether to grant consent for this project based on the policies set out in the relevant National Policy Statements for Energy, while also taking into account domestic and European law, reports from affected local authorities and the opinions put forward by local communities and other interested parties. Further information on the IPC can be found at <http://infrastructure.independent.gov.uk/>

This proposal is for "EIA development". Therefore, as part of the application process, a full Environmental Impact Assessment will be carried out to consider how the power station will affect the environment and how these effects can be minimised.

When we will consult

We will undertake two phases of pre-application public consultation on the project:

- Public consultation phase one, lasting four weeks from 17th November 2011.
- Public consultation phase two, lasting four weeks, during early 2012.

What we will consult on

The aim of our pre-application public consultation on the project is to ensure that both the local community and technical consultees have a chance to understand and influence our proposals.

Phase one will set out the background to the proposed power station, detailing why the proposed power station is needed, how the facility is in line with established energy and waste policy and the details of how the facility will operate.

We will consult on the following:

- our proposals for the site, including how the power station will look and operate and the suitability of the site; and
- the scope of the proposed environmental assessment.

All feedback received in phase one will be reviewed and taken into account in the development of our revised proposals for phase two.

Phase two will consult on the detail of our proposed Development Consent Order (DCO) application, including:

- details of our revised planning proposals including how the final site will look and operate;
- the preliminary environmental information we have compiled (which will be available via our project website); and
- our proposals for avoiding, minimising and/or mitigating any adverse environmental or community effects likely to arise in connection with the project.

During phase two we will also address the requirements of Section 48 of the Act concerning the publication of our proposed final application for consultation, prior to this being formally submitted.

Who we will consult

1. Community consultees, including the general public living in the vicinity of the site, local property owners/occupiers, local businesses, community representatives and groups including hard to reach groups; and
2. Technical consultees, including relevant officers at Hertfordshire County Council, Broxbourne Borough Council and neighbouring authorities, other statutory consultees and the current owner of the site.

Accessibility of Information

We will ensure that the consultation information we provide on our proposals uses non-technical language or that non-technical summaries are made available for all specialist or technical reports.

We have also set up a project helpline and will provide written materials so that information is also available to those without internet access. Meetings and events will be held in accessible venues.

How we will consult

We will provide clear and concise public information about our proposals throughout the consultation process.

We will use the following methods to consult on our proposals:

Feedback

We are legally required to take into account the responses we receive through the consultation process. Consultation responses will also be taken into account by the IPC in reaching their decision on our DCO application.

All feedback received during phase one consultation will be taken into account in the development of our revised proposals for phase two consultation. A summary of comments received and our responses will be included in our Consultation Report with the final DCO application, and will be available on the project website and on request. A summary of the feedback received and details of our revised proposals will also be made available at public buildings in the vicinity of the site and at Hertfordshire County Council and Broxbourne Borough Council offices.

Further information

Further information on our proposals is available on our project website. We will also provide regular project updates including our Stakeholder and Community Engagement Strategy and other relevant technical reports via this website.

Town's role as a film location

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FILM crews have been out and about in Harlow this month shooting new psychological thriller uwantme2killhim? But it is not the first time the town has featured on the big screen.

As previously mentioned in Nostalgia, one of our biggest moments in the spotlight came when scenes for the controversial 1970s Stanley Kubrick classic A Clockwork Orange were filmed at the Princess Alexandra Hospital. "I believe they were filmed in the Derwent Centre at the time," said local history officer David Devine. "It can be seen towards the end of the film when the lead character Alex, played by Malcom McDowell, is receiving treatment."

But this wasn't the first contentious film to have a Harlow connection. Back in the early 1960s the newly-opened town swimming pool was used to film scenes for risqué movie The Yellow Teddy Bears about a group of sexually active teenagers. The British drama – directed by Robert Hartford-Davis and starring Jacqueline Ellis, Iain Gregory, Georgina Patterson and a handful of Harlow students – followed a group of girls at an English school who wore a yellow teddy bear on their uniform to signify that they had lost their virginity.

"I remember the council hired out the swimming pool to the film company for two days and a group of students, probably from Burnt Mill, played extras," said regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill, who was working for Harlow Council at the time.

"The problem was that with the film being so focused on teen sex it ended up with an 'X' certificate meaning only those aged over 18 could go and see it at the cinema. All the students who took part were too young to get in!"

As far as Mr Devine can recall, those were the only films to have used Harlow as a location.

"Of course the town has had the cameras in for endless news reels and television programmes over the years," he added. "I know The Bill has been shot here a few times and we have pictures of the crews in Churchgate Street in the 1970s filming for a Tomorrow's World feature."

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: William Martin School

IT was a few months ago when Nostalgia stirred up memories with this photograph of some happy children from William Martin School enjoying a school trip in the mid 1960s.

It was thought the photo, sent in by Sue Simons of Summers, was taken around 1966 and featured two classes at the school. However, Sue was unsure exactly where it was snapped.

Now Rose and Harry Saunders, of Brays Mead, think they may be able to help with a few unanswered questions.

"If the school trip involved brass rubbings as suggested by Sue in your article, then we believe the picture would more than likely have been taken at the St Andrews's Church at Netteswell – now used as the Study Centre – at Waterhouse Moor," they write.

"Our family believe that our daughter, Janette, is the girl kneeling down second from the left, although we had never seen the picture before.

"Unfortunately Janette died in March 2009 and so cannot confirm this herself, but we know she did do some brass rubbings there. The picture indeed would have been taken between 1965-1967."

Ms Simons, who got back in touch after speaking to Mr and Mrs Saunders, said she thought the location could be spot-on.

"I don't remember many coach trips and we could easily have walked to the church from the school," she said. "The only other location it may have been is Waltham Abbey. Hopefully someone will write in who knows for sure."

25 years ago in the Star

➡ More than 200 of the families who accepted the first 1,000 houses in Harlow are still living in them and have now formed an association. FIFTH (First Inhabitants of the First Thousand Houses) has been set up ahead of the town's 40th anniversary celebrations and is open to anyone on the 1953 electoral roll.

➡ Tesco managers turned waiters to serve turkey and all the trimmings throughout the afternoon to their staff. The store's night manager didn't get off lightly either, spending his late shift serving Christmas dinner to the entire evening team.

➡ The loss of 56 golf clubs worth £360 from the Town Park pitch and putt course this year is forcing Harlow Council to introduce a deposit system for the next season. A deposit of £1 per set of clubs or leaving a concessionary pass or UB40 has been suggested.

➡ There will be no excuse for missing the Abbotswood School Christmas bazaar since pupils made over 100 posters to publicise the event. They have appeared in shops and venues all over the town, with one even finding its way to the Harlow Star office in Wych Elm.

Shine a light for loved ones

TWO people who have a special reason for taking part in the Star-backed St Clare Hospice Light Up A Life event are Stan and Heather Wright.

The couple, who live in Harlow, will be remembering their daughter-in-law Nina by dedicating a light which will shine brightly at the Hastingswood hospice throughout Christmas and in to the New Year.

"It seems very appropriate to have a light at the hospice for our much-loved Nina who passed away in St Clare's on Christmas Eve 2005," said Stan.

"She was so very well cared for by St Clare, as were all of us. Her three small girls visited often and the youngest was even baptised in the hospice while Nina was staying there.

"Nina had a brain tumour which was untreatable. It was a huge shock as she was only 34 when she was diagnosed, but she was a fighter and determined to make it to Christmas Day and the birthday of her middle daughter, Chloe.

"Nina was known in the town as she worked for social services and cared for many children across the area that had special needs and disabilities."

Heather added: "Christmas was such a special time for Nina. While receiving the support of the hospice they helped her to be able find the strength to buy her family presents, each one thought about carefully and she even wrapped many of them herself. With the staff's help she also prepared memory boxes for the little ones to remember their mummy by.

"It's a terrible thing to happen at any time of year, but to lose her on Christmas Eve was even harder we think. Light Up A Life will give us an opportunity to think of all the funny times, warm memories we have and the special love and care that was given to Nina and us all."

MEMORIES: Stan and Heather Wright, whose daughter-in-law Nina, left, passed away at St Clare Hospice on Christmas Eve, 2005

Lindsey Nials, from St Clare, said: "Light Up A Life is about us giving something back to the community, a chance for people to come together at what can be a difficult time of year to remember and celebrate the lives of loved ones."

The lights will be switched on at special events throughout the district, including two at the hospice on December 3 and 7. These events will not take the form of a religious service but are an opportunity to reflect and celebrate, with festive songs and poignant readings.

Once the lights are illuminated they will remain shining until Twelfth Night.

"Light Up A Life is not solely for people who have experienced hospice care or indeed lost someone in the hospice," said Lindsey. "It is open to anyone who has lost family, friends or people close to them. It can be comforting to know that a symbol of their life is glowing publicly and amongst the hassle and bustle of the festivities, they are not forgotten."

Anyone wanting to attend either of the Light Up A Life events at the hospice should first register their interest and request a dedication form as space is limited. To do so, or visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk/lual or call (01279) 773750.

Too young to take part in Midnight Walk... so we held ours at Midday

WHEN a group of Cubs and Beavers found out they were too young to take part in St Clare Hospice's annual Midnight Walk they were determined to organise their own event to raise funds. So the 16th Harlow group based at Risdens Wood Scout Hut held a four-and-a-half mile Midday Walk. Starting off from the Tesco store at Church Langley, the Cubs walked to the helipad at Netteswell Plantation where they met up with the Beavers.

They then made their way back to their hut while collecting donations from passers-by en route. The youngsters all wore specially designed T-shirts bearing the slogan 'I painted the town green and gold' - the colour of their scarves.

Scout leader Karen Hopps said she was very proud of her group.

"It rained continuously for the duration of the walk but no-one complained despite their young age," she said.

"They also took collection tins with them and many individuals put in their pennies in support of the walk, raising a tremendous £370 in total."

GROUP OF NEWSPAPERS

Draw a logo to celebrate Harlow's 65th anniversary

NEXT year marks the 65th anniversary of Harlow New Town and to celebrate the Star has teamed up with Harlow Council to offer a talented young artist the chance to design a special birthday logo.

We are inviting budding Picassos aged 7-16 to come up with a design which captures what they feel about the town. The winning entry will be used as the official symbol of the birthday celebrations which are set to take place throughout 2012.

The logo needs to contain the words 'Harlow turns 65' and should be bright, inviting and easily understandable.

The winner will get to see their design on posters, leaflets, brochures, letterheads and the internet. They will also win a family ticket worth £52 to this year's Playhouse pantomime Peter Pan, which opens on December 2.

Entries must be submitted by December 8 and each must have the entrant's name, age, address and contact telephone number printed clearly on the reverse. No entries will be accepted after the deadline.

The winning entry will be chosen by a panel including the Harlow Council chief executive Malcolm Morley and the editor of the Star.

Details of the winning entry will be published in the Star on December 15.

Post your entries to 65th Birthday Logo Competition, Harlow Council, Civic Offices, The Water Gardens, Harlow, Essex CM20 1WG or email them to harlows65@harlow.gov.uk.

Competition rules

Keep the logo simple; use 3-4 colours maximum.

Entries should be submitted on an A4 sheet of paper or as a digital image.

Avoid using coloured pencils as they don't always hold their colour well when scanned.

Be unique! Get inspiration from things around you but don't copy designs that you have seen somewhere else.

Share your views on town's future

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

RESIDENTS are being given the chance to help shape a blueprint for Harlow's future by taking part in a new consultation exercise.

The online survey launched by the Harlow 2020 partnership – which includes Harlow Council, Essex Police, NHS West Essex, Harlow Education Consortium and the Voluntary Sector Forum among its members – seeks the views of local people on issues such as education, leisure, crime and housings.

The survey also asks for opinions on the provision of services and amenities tailored specifically for young people, families and the elderly.

The results will be fed back into the Harlow 2020 Vision, a document detailing proposals for the town's future and serving as a guide for all other plans and strategies affecting the district.

Group chairman Jackie Sulley, who will help launch the revised blueprint at a meeting on December 9, described the plan as a "bold and ambitious vision" for Harlow.

"This is a real opportunity to help shape the future of our town," she said. "While 2020 may feel along way off, we need to be planning now for major developments and the long term renewal of Harlow."

"We are asking people to take a few moments to fill in our survey. The results will be used to co-ordinate the resources and investments of everyone with an interest in Harlow's future."

The survey can be found at www.surveymonkey.com/s/SCS\_Consultation and closes next Friday (November 25).

Work starts on £80k lock refurb

WORK has started on replacing ageing lock gates on part of Harlow's river network.

The five-week project, which is costing £80,000, began on Friday when workmen from British Waterways used a crane to lift out the three-tonne steel gates at Burnt Mill Lock.

Other essential repairs will now be carried out at the lock before specially-crafted replacement gates are fitted at the end of the month.

As each lock on the UK's 2,000-mile canal and river network is unique in shape and size, individual gates have to be tailor-made by specialist craftsmen and have a lifespan of around 25 years.

British Waterways' Senior Waterway Engineer Tony Sims said: "The repairs taking place at Burnt Mill Lock are part and parcel of what we at British Waterways do."

"We take pride in knowing that the work we undertake now enables the public to enjoy the historic waterways for many more years to come."

Do knit disturb: it's the all-wool hotel bedroom

A SEASIDE hotel has unveiled a new room where everything is made from wool – even the full English breakfast!

Clothes designer Kate Jenkins (40) spent one month and 5kg of wool decorating the single en-suite room at the Pelliocco in Brighton.

With help from two assistants she created a knitted vase of flowers, colourful curtains and a dazzling bedspread.

The telephone, lampshade, teapot and cup have all been given knitted covers, while knitted artwork and wallpaper made up of photos of knitting adorn the walls. Only the bathroom remains untouched by Kate's knitting needles because of the risk of condensation – but even so she couldn't resist knitting a tube of toothpaste!

The cosy room costs £55 per night in the week and £69 at the weekend and will be available for guests for the next three years.

Kate told reporters: "The only things not covered are the bed frame and rocking chair. I wanted it to look tasteful, not twee."

She added: "Some people say that knitting is for grannies but to me it's always been stylish."

Hotel manager Mark Gibson added: "We're all very excited about the launch of the room. Kate is an excellent artist and has impressed with many exhibitions in the city."

Luke picked to join Fagin's gang

A TALENTED youngster from one of Harlow's longest-running theatre schools has landed a role in Cameron Mackintosh's hit musical Oliver!

Luke Henry (13), who studies at The Brenda Taylor School of Dance and Performing Arts, was picked ahead of hundreds of young hopefuls for the part of Handwerker – one of Fagin's crafty pickpockets.

He has now joined a star-studded cast that includes Brian Connolly and Neil Morrissey for rehearsals in London before the acclaimed production embarks on a UK tour.

Luke follows in the footsteps of a long line of students from the 46-year-old school who have gone on to pursue successful showbiz careers, including Charlotte Spencer who played Bet in the show's original West End production.

"The rehearsals have been amazing," he said this week. "I just can't imagine how exciting the show is going to be!

"I'm loving every second of it and this what I want to do in the future."

Tutor Brenda Taylor added: "Luke has exactly the right personality, charm, commitment and drive to fulfil his ambition. "We wish him all the best as he prepares to join the tour."

Back on Parade after a European diversion

By CHRIS MOSS

PATIENCE may not be a virtue traditionally associated with major record companies, but it's a sure sign of Parlophone's unswerving belief in the chart-topping potential of Morning Parade which has given the Harlow quintet more than a year to release their new single.

But then overnight success had never been part of the plan for Steve Sparrow and co, who have finally given fans what they've been waiting 12 long months for with Us & Ourselves, a typically anthemic flourish of infectious synth-pop grooves and skyscraping guitar swirls.

Deliberately avoiding the hype and hysteria that has proved the downfall of so many next-big-things in recent years, the band have kept a relatively low profile in the UK since releasing their major label debut Under The Stars, concentrating instead on an exhaustive European tour and putting the finishing touches to the all-important new album earmarked for release in 2012.

Frontman Steve told the Star: "I think the common misconception is that we're dead but we've been focusing on building something over in Europe.

"Expecting instant success comes

MORNING GLORY: Harlow five-piece Morning Parade are hoping for chart success with new single, Us & Ourselves from the way people perceive the music industry through things like X Factor, but I hope anyone who has followed our journey knows how hard it is.

"We want to build a platform to release a record where there's a real hunger for it."

And what a platform they've built, from supporting their musical heroes Biffy Clyro at Ibiza Rocks to playing sold-out gigs in front of up to 8,000 people in France, Belgium and Russia.

But despite their European success, the band still have their feet planted firmly on the ground, with Steve already fretting about 'difficult second album' syndrome.

"You're always waiting for the big moment that says you've made it, when the ground opens and people emerge blowing trumpets in your honour," he said.

"Then that moment never comes because we're always pushing on to the next thing. I don't lie awake at night thinking how's the record going to sell?"

"I'm insomniac because I can't finish a song, I'm thinking 'I'm halfway through writing my best song yet and I can't work out how to finish it'."

Us & Ourselves is available now on iTunes. Log on to the band's website at www.morningparade.com for more information.

>>>what's on at the square

>>>tonight Thrusting young noisniks Scholars, Evvarane and Chasing Cadence provide the aural entertainment as Incoming cranks it up to 11. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £4 (free for members).

>>>friday Shake your thang to an ever-changing mix of hip hop, reggae, drum 'n' bass, latin, soul, funk and much, much more from DJs Trax, Monk and Nucleus with the return of Chameleon. Doors open at 9pm and admission is £4.

>>>saturday Punk pin-up Beki Bondage brings resurrected Bristol punk legends Vice Squad to The Square tonight. Formed back in 1978, the four-piece enjoyed chart-bothering success with debut album No Cause For Concern in 1981. # Beginning of the end in Twilight's last gleaming

certificate 12A, 1h57m

WITH Harry Potter now consigned to the annals of movie history, tween audiences can sink their fangs into the fourth film based on the books by Stephenie Meyer, which brings the love story of a mortal and a vampire to an explosive conclusion.

Like the climactic outing of JK Rowling's boy wizard, this final chapter of the Twilight Saga has been cleaved in two, with the concluding instalment due in UK cinemas on November 16, 2012.

By the end of the third film – The Twilight Saga: Eclipse – the tug of war for the affections of Bella Swan (Kristen Stewart) reached a crucial juncture and the young woman chose vampire Edward (Robert Pattinson) over werewolf best friend Jacob (Taylor Lautner).

With poor Jacob heartbroken and shirtless to show off his abs, Bella pledges her undying love to Edward and the couple marry in a beautiful ceremony in front of her father Charlie (Billy Burke) and his blood-sucking clan: Dr Carlisle (Peter Facinelli), Esme (Elizabeth Reaser), Alice (Ashley Greene), Jasper (Jackson Rathbone), Emmett (Kellan Lutz) and Rosalie (Nikki Reed).

The newlyweds head to Rio de Janeiro for their honeymoon, to consummate their love. Bella falls pregnant and a half-human, half-vampire child grows at an accelerated rate inside her, forcing the lovers to face an agonising decision about transforming Bella into a fanged fiend.

The Quileute wolf pack fears the hybrid infant could pose a serious threat to their existence and the lycanthropes prepare to kill Bella and her unborn child. Naturally, Jacob protests and he forms a splinter pack to protect the woman he loves.

Meanwhile, the Volturi – the council of ancient vampire leaders – learns of the pregnancy and takes a decision that could spell the end of the Cullens.

Christmas cracker is five weeks early

ARTHUR CHRISTMAS 3D
certificate U, 1h37m

SANTA (voiced by Jim Broadbent) has been the figurehead of the Yuletide season for decades and he proudly oversees this year's delivery of presents in his hi-tech spacecraft, masterminded with military precision by eldest son Steve (Hugh Laurie).

Down in the bowels of the craft, youngest son Arthur (James McAvoy) answers correspondence from the children of the world including a young British girl called Gwen (Ramona Marquez).

But a malfunction in the loading bay goes unnoticed by the elves in mission control and Gwen doesn't receive her pink bicycle.

With time running out until Gwen's Christmas is ruined, Arthur joins forces with Grandsanta (Bill Nighy) and wrapping elf Bryony (Ashley Jensen) to deliver Gwen's gift using the old sleigh and a team of retired reindeers.

>>still on screen

Immortals (3D & 2D) Many centuries ago the Gods waged war against the Titans and imprisoned these creatures in a cage that can only be broken by a bolt from the mythical Epirus Bow. Megalomaniac King Hyperion (Mickey Rourke) and his hordes declare war on the Gods by ravaging the land in search of the bow. Ancient law prevents Zeus (Luke Evans), his daughter Athena (Isabel Lucas) and the other Gods from intervening in mankind's conflict so they watch with mounting dread from their vantage point on Mount Olympus as Hyperion slaughters everyone who gets in his way. Strapping Theseus (Henry Cavill) witnesses his mother Aethra (Anne Day-Jones) falling to the swords of Hyperion's hordes and seeks vengeance but many obstacles stand between him and his showdown with Hyperion.

In Time In an emotionally starved globe in which money has become obsolete and the currency is time, people are engineered to age until they reach 25 years old. Then a clock, embedded in their arm, begins to tick down second by second to their demise. During a night out, Will Salas (Justin Timberlake) has a chance encounter with handsome yet suicidal rich man Henry Hamilton (Matt Bomer) who donates 100 years of his time to Will's body clock. Granted access to the most exclusive parts of the city, Will learns the truth about how Philippe Weis (Vincent Kartheiser) and the men in power manipulate the populace for their own gain. Will vows to bring down the corrupt system forging an unlikely alliance with Philippe's rebellious daughter Sylvia (Amanda Seyfried).

The Adventures of Tintin: The Secret of The Unicorn (2D) Tintin (Jamie Bell) buys a model ship and is plunged into a centuries-old mystery involving Ivan Ivanovitch Sakharine (Daniel Craig). Ivan asks Tintin to name his price for the boat but the reporter refuses to sell, sensing the wooden vessel is far more valuable than it first appears. Sure enough, a cryptic conundrum lies within, revealing that "only a true Haddock will discover the secret of The Unicorn." Assisted by trusty pooch Snowy, Tintin searches for more clues and meets booze-sodden Captain Haddock (Andy Serkis), whose family history holds the key to the mystery of a cursed shipwreck.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell

to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Mars is your guide, yet it drives us all to find an outlet for so much information about what's going on around you, and about the people you interact with. This has given you some real food for thought. Stabilizing your finances remains a theme, and someone you knew long past can be a catalyst for the type of changes that you want to make. Call for your financial scope...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
The challenges you've faced have helped you to see, it really isn't relationships themselves that is the key, but the quality of them. Your values and those of the people you wish to interconnect with need to be more in harmony. If they are, some amazing new alliances are possible, ones that can bring many blessings. Call for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
If you've longed to move somewhere more suitable, or get cracking with an attic conversation or extension to your home, a unique mix of planetary energies can turbo-charge your hopes now. One person can also be very supportive to your plans and may pitch in and help as well as giving you moral support. Call for more news and advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Jupiter and Pluto continue to forge a stunning alliance. This can bring fortune to partnerships, especially those that are linked to education, technology and travel. Yet with Mars giving your personal expression more zest and angling with Pluto, one discussion or meeting of minds, can prove to be absolutely fated. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
You can be a larger than life character - even if you don't see yourself in such terms. Leo. And life and opportunity comes to you now. Confusion in a close tie eases, and you are focused very much on the big picture. And improving your financial lot is going to become something of a clarion call. You want it, and now! Call for your financial scope...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
I said last week that this one would prove to be seminal. Why? Because Mars storms into your sign for a rare eight month stay. This is going to fire you up in all sorts of ways, and give you a real desire to take a firmer grip on your life direction. New starts beckon and sooner than you imagine. Exciting stuff! Call your special prediction line for more news...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
You're given a special gift this week - a gift of determination, drive and assertiveness. If you use these qualities to the full, the next eight months can change your whole life. Challenge your own passivity. Don't sit back on your life direction. New starts beckon and sooner than you imagine. Exciting stuff! Call your special prediction line for more news...

Spacious four-bed detached with the potential to extend

coverproperty

Location Thornbera Road, Bishop's Stortford

Category Four-bedroom detached

Additional En suite to master bedroom, refitted kitchen, potential to extend

Guide price £450,000

Agent Mackay Property Agents, The Old Barn, 2a The Square, Sawbridgeworth. Telephone (01279) 600567

THIS week's cover property is a newly extended and refurbished four-bedroom family home of a type that rarely comes on to the market.

Originally built in 1936, this detached house offers spacious living accommodation with a new rear extension, loft conversion and new double glazing throughout.

The front door gives entry into a spacious entrance hall with stairs rising to the first floor and doors leading to a downstairs cloakroom, kitchen, utility room and large sitting room.

The kitchen/diner has a skylight which floods the room with natural light, while doors open onto the rear patio and garden.

The kitchen is a delightful space with new built-in appliances, a butler sink and complementary tiling. Wooden work surfaces and contemporary, chic cabinets work very well with the tiled floor.

Upstairs are three good sized bedrooms and a family bathroom, while the top floor master bedroom is a very generous size and has an en-suite shower room.

The back garden is a good size and is well screened while to the front of the property is an in-and-out block paved driveway with off-street parking for approximately four vehicles.

There is potential to extend to the side of the property. A garage and/or side extension could be added subject to the relevant planning permissions.

For further information or to arrange a viewing appointment, contact Mackay Property Agents on (01279) 600567.

Priced at £289,000

ON the market in superb condition, this family home in Malkin Drive, Church Langley, has an iron-gated driveway leading to a covered carport and garage.

There are many styles of estate agency operating in the Harlow area, and picking the right one to sell your property can be daunting.

Over this series of articles we have made reference to a number of issues to consider so that you can make an informed choice when the time comes for you to sell.

Different agencies provide different services, yet some people are not aware of the indirect benefit that apparently unrelated services can offer. For example, choosing a selling agent who also does lettings could be the make or break of your sale! There are several reasons for this:

Firstly, as sales and lettings agents, we have long-term buy-to-let property investors permanently on our books who buy through us regularly. They know us, and they make quick decisions and reliable offers. They prefer to buy through an agency that does lettings because it is easy for them to let out their new investment, as we are often able to find a tenant who can move in immediately the property sale has completed.

Secondly, many of our tenants subsequently go on to buy a property. As we build a relationship with our tenants we are therefore in prime position to be able to help them buy one of our own clients' properties.

Thirdly, there are times when a vendor decides not to sell, but to rent, or even pursue both routes simultaneously, in which case we are of course well positioned to handle both. Likewise, it is often the case that a prospective tenant decides to buy instead of renting, again adding to our stock of pre-qualified buyers.

So when the time comes to sell, pick a letter! It will improve your chances – and probably your price!

Times are hard but it's not all doom and gloom

WHEN the economy tightens, it is prudent to reassess the efficiency of your business because, even in the current climate, it is possible for companies to grow.

Jeff Allen, managing director of the Allen House Business Centre in Sawbridgeworth, could provide the ideal solution for those looking to turn the recession to their advantage.

"Despite the downturn, our business centre is more popular than ever and we have found some current tenants are reporting growth," he says. "We believe this is a result of smart choices, beginning with a reassessment of rental costs.

"Rather than committing to long-term leases, the Allen House Business Centre provides month-in, month-out, flexible terms to suit your business needs.

"Cost-cutting needn't mean a drop in standards or facilities. We pride ourselves on our abilities to meet the expectations of your company. With meeting rooms available for hire, conference facilities, ample car parking, phone and internet packages and a central reception point for visitors and deliveries, it's not just the proximity to the mainline railway and motorways that will benefit your business.

"We hold regular network meetings to encourage local companies to meet and expand their portfolios.

With offices starting at just $295 per month (all inclusive), we could be the value for money solution that is the difference between surviving and thriving in the current economic climate."

Why not visit the Allen House Business Centre to get an insight? Attend the next business network meeting on November 18 from 12.30-2.30pm or call for further details on (01279) 834834.

Start-up opportunities at Harlow Business Centre

HARLOW Business Centre is keen to ensure that all new, expanding or relocating businesses are aware of the outstanding value for money available at the Harlow Business Centre, within a growing business community with an exciting future ahead.

Centre manager Gaynor Perkins says: "Harlow has an excellent reputation for industry with start-up businesses well above the UK average. We have been very impressed by the entrepreneurial business concepts demonstrated by our clients."

New companies such as Objects in Glass Ltd – creators of objects within bespoke glass panels – and Growways – retailers of hydroponics products used to maximise plant growth potential – have joined established clients on-site including AC Engineering & Fabrication Ltd (specialist print machine repairs and rebuilds) and Princeps Electronics Ltd (a quality distributor of electronic components) to take advantage of the centre's facilities and services.

Harlow Business Centre provides business accommodation ranging from 240-2000 sq.ft. and takes responsibility for the maintenance and insurance of the premises. Your refuse will be collected and you will have 24/7 access to your unit. The centre also has night security patrols, 24/7 CCTV, free designated and visitor parking and our on site centre manager is happy to oversee deliveries for you. If required, we will provide admin support for your business.

The centre has easy in/easy out licence agreements. Whether you are looking for an office or a workshop or indeed both, they take the risk factor out of making that move. If you are looking for affordable business premises at a competitive price within a friendly, professional and secure centre, please call our centre manager on (01279) 429644 who would welcome the opportunity of showing you around.

Join the Q for a family favourite

By Matt Joy

FAMILIARITY is supposed to breed contempt, but in the case of the Audi Q5 sitting happily behind the house, nothing could be further from the truth.

In month one it covered enough miles to sail through the running-in period comfortably and in month two the mileage has gone up in a yet-more dramatic fashion.

Invariably a family vehicle like this attracts more family duties and once word has spread the phone begins to ring more frequently with tasks to be carried out.

An overnight trip to the highlands of Fife provided the chance to put over 800 miles beneath the Q5's wheels in a single hit and also get a proper handle on what sort of economy it could muster.

It wasn't just the distance to be travelled, however, as on board were two passengers expecting to be chauffeured in comfort. No worries on that front; the standard leather upholstery on the S line model meant my female passengers were as cocooned as they could wish for. The six-foot frame of the front seat occupant was easily accommodated while the slighter-built lady in the back had enough space to snooze horizontally for much of the M6.

The climate-controlled cup holders are hardly an essential bit of kit but being able to cool and keep warm various drinks at the same time helped to keep fatigue at bay.

With no great hurry to cover, the distance the Q5 cruise-controlled its way along at a steady 75mph, the engine not even reaching 2,000rpm and noise levels reduced to a gentle thrum.

Even before crossing the border the comprehensive trip computer was showing over 40mpg and by the time it rolled back into home it had achieved a very impressive 46.2mpg.

Despite this impressive thrift I've not yet figured out a way for the Q5 to actually put money back into my pocket, and hence I've continued to explore the outer limits of economical driving on the way to work.

Duking it out with the trucks in lane one is neither fun or fast, but hitting 53.2mpg for the 82-mile journey meant commuting costing less than £9 a day and put a smile on my face.

I'm hoping for more smiles in the coming months, too. Despite the ridiculously-warm late autumn temperatures leaving me cursing, I'm still waiting patiently for the first signs of proper winter.

Not that the Q5 doesn't get on with summer of course – the dual-zone climate control takes care of that – but the lure of the heated seats and four-wheel drive means smugness comes as standard.

Even on the beefy 19-inch summer tyres it would have good purchase on snow and ice, but a set of winter tyres would turn it into a proper unstoppable snowbuster.

Even while the roads are merely damp, the combination of Quattro delivery and V6 diesel muscle has made for some entertaining cross-country dashes. With the S-tronic gearbox shifting in a super-slick fashion and the engine well and truly freed up the performance is hilarious quick.

At least a dozen so-called hot hatch drivers have found themselves watching the Q5's rear disappear into the distance and it does so with a pleasing multi-cylinder thrum.

Even without having ever switched off the ESP system the Q5 is grippy and capable through the bends, and despite the unshakable fact that it is a relatively heavy car it never feels handicapped by its bulk and will duck and dive to follow a twisting road.

Despite the distance covered and the variety of roads travelled, I still get the feeling that I've barely scratched the surface of the Q5's ability.

However, the next month could see the towing hitch and roof rails see some action, as well as it dipping its toes in mud or snow for the first time.

Either way, the Q5 will be ready and able.

Any retail customer buying a new SEAT during the promotion will automatically qualify for £200 worth of M&amp;S vouchers, while those taking SEAT Finance at the same time will receive a further £200 of vouchers - which adds up to a very handy £400 'Christmas bonus' from SEAT. CMC Sales Manager, Gerald Holmes, said: 'Heaven knows there's enough doom and gloom about at the moment and so this offer is the perfect pick-me-up to spread a little Christmas cheer. 'The current suite of deals on offer at the moment, including the Pay No VAT deal on specific models, means getting behind the wheel of a stunning new SEAT has never been more affordable. Now, the extra incentive of the Big Weekend bonus means it's never been more attractive. 'Firstly, those taking advantage of the deal will have a fantastic new car sat on their driveway in time for the big day and that's a fantastic feeling, let me tell you. But, secondly, having £400 worth of M&amp;S vouchers to spend could really make this Christmas extra special.' Available on two of Barcelona-based SEAT's most popular models - the stylish Ibiza 5dr 1.4 SE Copa supermini and the sporty Leon 1.6 TDI 5 Copa family hatchback, the Pay No VAT offer makes the case for buying a new car during the Big Weekend even more compelling. With SEAT picking up the 20% tax bill, qualifying retail buyers choosing the Ibiza will pay just £10,699 RRP - a massive saving of £2,105 - while those opting for the Leon will pay just £14,909, saving a whopping £2,970. For more information on the SEAT range, precise details of the deals on offer, or to book a test drive call CMC SEAT Harlow now on 01279 775900 or visit the Edinburgh Way Harlow showroom.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our

Sweet revenge

UPPER Clapton avenged an 85-0 loss to Millwall two years ago, by beating the South Londoners 19-5 away in the Essex League, division one.

The hosts dominated the first half hour but could not score.

The Thornwood Common team began to take control of the possession, territory and set-pieces.

Ross Stalley's boot gave Clapton a 6-0 lead, courtesy of two penalties.

A turnover allowed Stalley to scoop up a loose ball and out-pace the Millwall defence to score a try from 35m out.

In the second half, the hosts scored a try to reduce the gap to 5-13.

Two long-range Stalley penalties ensured Clapton took the points.

UPPER CLAPTON: Dorling, Baldwin, Trevillion, Jones, McFarlane, Garwood, Becerra, Dobin, Hack (c), Stalley, Gunnell, Reynolds, A. Prince, Illic, Roberts: Subs: G. Prince, Burke, Thompson.

Slick Hampstead too good for battling women's team

A DETERMINED display from Harlow Rugby Club's women's team was not enough as they lost 24-10 at home to a well-drilled Hampstead in the RFU Women's South East division one north.

Slick handling allowed the Hampstead backs to run in two early tries.

One of these tries was converted.

The hosts fought back and Sarah Stimpson dashed over for a try which was not converted.

Harlow trailed 12-5 at the break but good teamwork saw them cut the gap to two points when Nicola Millman drove over for a try.

However, gaps were exploited by Hampstead to run in two more tries.

Joshua a Euro hopeful for England U-16s

basketball

A KEEN basketball player from Harlow is likely to be included in the England Basketball U-16 squad for the European Championship A Division next summer.

Joshua Steel (14), from the Hoo, was originally among 30 hopefuls that were selected.

This was whittled down to 18 after a training camp at Filton College in Bristol in October.

The squad may be cut to 16, but it is thought the talented youngster will make the cut.

His father Alex Steel, also chairman of Harlow Athletic Club, said: "He's only 14 still and has a good chance of making the U-16 squad. It could go down to 16. He has done very well and I'm delighted."

"He's playing against men and is getting stronger."

Joshua, who can play wing or guard, is currently playing

Coach demands a clinical edge

PLAYER-coach Shab Niaz demanded his Harlow Hawks team develop more of a cutting edge after they slipped to a narrow home defeat against Luton Fliers in division one of the Herts County League.

Harlow defended well on Friday, but did not offer enough in attack and in the end lost by seven points.

Niaz said: "It has been quite a while since we last had such a low total in a game. We did a tremendous job on defence to hold them to 51 points, but we need to put more points on the board ourselves than we have in a number of games this season."

"We had a good chance to win this game and jump towards the top end of the table."

Harlow looked in control at the start and their defence was in great form thanks to the hard work of the Atkinson brothers (Simon and Luke).

Harlow Hawks 44, Luton Fliers 51

The duo mopped up every rebound, limiting Luton to only one shot per offence.

The hosts created a number of good looks on the offensive end but did not convert enough and only led 11-4 at the end of the first quarter.

After the great defensive effort initially, Harlow were unable to cope with the inside presence of the Fliers' big man in the second quarter, as the visitors scored more freely.

At the other end, the Hawks only managed eight points and Luton pegged back the first quarter deficit to lead 24-19 at the halfway stage.

In the third quarter, Luton's big man often found gaps at the back to punish the Hawks.

There was more consistency from the hosts in attack, but Luton still stretched their lead to nine points (42-33) going into the final quarter.

In the last quarter, a couple of three pointers from Nick Moss and Dave Spashett saw the home side close the gap to five points and give them a glimmer of hope. However, this was not seized on.

Niaz added: "Our decision making at times in the game needs to improve, especially in the last quarter of tight games if we are to get over the line with a win at the end."

"I'm confident we will start to come good soon."

HARLOW HAWKS: S. Atkinson (10pts), S. Niaz (9), L. Atkinson (7), Taffe-Atkins (6), Moss (5), Ball (4), Spashett (3), Z. Niaz, Allan, Jones, Jackson, Burgess.

Bates unlocks defence to score late winning try

youth rugby

A LATE try from lock Jarrod Bates clinched an exciting 22-19 victory for Harlow Rugby Club's U-13 side over Westcliff in the second round of the Essex County Cup.

The Rams were trailing 19-17 before a late forwards' drive from the home pack saw Bates touch down.

Earlier, Harlow went 5-0 ahead when Jack Snell scored an unconverted try before Westcliff equalised with a try from a rolling maul.

However, the Rams bounced back with two tries. Number eight Liam Jones powered over from a scrum before Mason Sharpe produced a great pick-up and dashed 60 metres to touch down under the posts.

Archie Langford converted and Harlow led 17-5 at the break.

However, Westcliff scored two converted tries to put them 19-17 ahead before their hopes were dashed by Bates at the death.

An outstanding performance saw Harlow U-14s beat Thames U-14 50-0 in the Essex League.

The Harlow try-scorers included Pace (2), King, Alderman and Clark.

Clark also kicked six conversions and a penalty.

Harlow keep up top run

Witham 2, Harlow 3

East Men's Hockey League, division four south east

THE strong league form of Harlow continued as they registered a narrow victory at Essex rivals Witham.

Harlow's line-up on Saturday saw Rhys Mace replace Ben Light (back at university) on the right wing. Midfielder Stuart Kirk was unavailable.

The visitors went ahead on five minutes. A good shot from Craig Cholerton was kept out by the home goalkeeper, but Andy Boughtwood reacted quickest to the loose ball and neatly flicked over the keeper.

Witham equalised on 20 minutes. After winning a penalty corner, a drag flick from the home forward went through the legs of Harlow keeper Shaun Hastler and into the goal.

After half-time, the visitors improved and scored two goals on 40 and 43 minutes.

Harlow's second goal came when James Smith cut inside from the left. His goalbound effort was deflected into the corner by Boughtwood.

An excellent three-man move ended with Dan Munro picking out Smith who took one touch before he powered a shot across the goal, squeezing the ball inside the far post.

Witham pulled a goal back from another penalty corner on the hour mark but Harlow held on.

Harlow are fourth in the table. HARLOW: Hastler, Castle, Plumridge, Krzoska, Grace, Symonds, Smith, Cholerton, Mace, Munro, Boughtwood.

Ladies crush title rivals

Harlow 7,

Maldon & Little Baddow 2

Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division

IN-form skipper Carolyn Welsford bagged five goals as Harlow maintained second spot by thrashing third-placed Maldon and Little Baddow at home.

Georgina Esterhuysen put Harlow ahead after 10 minutes on Saturday, following good work from Emma Tweddle and Sonya Amos.

Maldon equalised through a penalty corner two minutes later before Charlotte Byers restored Harlow's lead when she tucked in a rebound on 16 minutes.

Welsford then joined the scoring party, drilling her first goal low into the corner on 19 minutes for a 3-1 lead.

Subsequent first-half action saw Welsford beat the keeper with a reverse-stick flick on 26 minutes before Maldon grabbed a second goal with the last attack of the first half.

The first goal of the second period was key and Welsford obliged on 40 minutes when she coolly slotted low into the right corner of the Maldon net for her hat-trick.

She then fired in from an acute angle on 57 minutes before rounding off the scoring on 65 minutes.

Keeper Linda Rowley will miss Harlow's match at premier division leaders, undefeated East London on Saturday as she is attending her daughter's wedding.

HARLOW: Rowley, Shearman, Trimble, Kerner-Bignell, Douglas, Tweddle, Dolan, Byers, Amos, Esterhuysen, Welsford.

Ex-Spurs ace Hazard is pitch perfect for World Cup winner

MICKY Hazard might have kept Ossie Ardiles on the bench for the 1984 UEFA Cup final second leg – but the Argentinean clearly holds no grudges and the ex-Spurs and Chelsea midfielder is spearheading the Ossie Ardiles Soccer School.

Teaching children to 'play like Barcelona' is the blueprint for Hazard's role in the soccer school.

Hazard, pictured above, who lives in East Herts, is a Black Cab driver nowadays but devotes as much time as he can to coaching young footballers.

He explained: "For me it's about educating them the Barcelona way rather than the English way."

"What we do [with the coaching schools] is start some passing drills and work on movement. Then we have 45-minute games and then we play a World Cup tournament in the afternoon."

"It was Ossie's idea to launch this. We want it to become massive. We want to take it outside London and go to Sunderland, Birmingham – all over."

Fifty-one-year-old Hazard, who played 91 games for Tottenham from 1978 and 1985 before a five-year spell at Chelsea where he played 81 matches, said: "We want to teach the right way. I'm purely selfish. I only want to teach them the Barcelona way."

"I think six-year-olds should play the same way as the first team. Who cares if you win or lose? We must need to teach them the right things in the end. It's not to see a kids win a league medal but to see them break into the professional game."

"It's just about making kids understand and making them better players."

Organiser Sam Lansdale added: "Micky and Ossie design how we coach. They want them to have fun and want to teach them the right way."

The first ever Ossie Ardiles Soccer School in the Star patch was held at Sawbridgeworth Town Football Club over the half-term holiday. Run by the Argentinean former World Cup winner and Spurs legend, Ossie hopes it will be the first of many in this region. Star Sports Editor ALAN SCOTT was invited to take part in a coaching session run by Ossie and his 'head honcho', former Tottenham Hotspur and Chelsea midfielder Micky Hazard.

OSSIE Ardiles is known simply as 'The Englishman' in his native Argentina.

His love of England is well documented as he has lived in this country for more than 30 years, since he arrived with compatriot and fellow World Cup winner Ricky Villa to play for Spurs in 1978.

He has had a home in East Herts all that time and still lives in Broxbourne.

Even when working as a manager back in Buenos Aires he would scream 'come on' at players and shouting 'yes' rather than the Spanish 'si' when a goal is scored, much to the bemusement of his non-English speaking team!

So it is a surprise to find him almost a silent witness to proceedings as I attend the final of four days of the Ossie Ardiles Soccer School at Sawbridgeworth Town FC's Crofters End ground.

It matters not a jot, I'm immediately invited by his former Spurs team-mate Micky Hazard to join in the coaching session.

It quickly becomes apparent that the kids have been paying plenty of attention to Mr Hazard over the last four days. Even when barely a yard from goal, players are choosing to pass rather than shoot.

Not a single goal is scored in the first 20 minutes – and that's not because these players are lacking a cutting edge in front of goal!

The philosophy is passing, passing and more passing – playing ball to feet, finding space and making movement.

Ardiles wants players to play a traditional Latin way – Barcelona rather than Blackburn!

The project started in Kent about a year ago, but now organisers want to bring the schools to the Spurs' heartland of this part of the world.

Hazard is continually barking out his orders, instructing the players what they should do and providing an explanation if he believes they have made a mistake.

The children are set apart in two groups of mainly 7- and 9-years-old and those of about 9 or 10 years and above.

The pass and move philosophy is clear and the kids are relishing making a nice pass as much as setting up a goal.

There are NO goalkeepers.

All the boys are following Hazard's advice – all except one boy who stands alone in the goal area just waiting for that ball to come to him so he can score!

Having coached a youth football team myself for the last three years, I've seen this player time and time again. Just sitting there waiting to score. He wants the goals and the glory more than anything else.

When the ball finally comes to him after 20 minutes of statuesque movement, he finally swings a right leg at it – and promptly misses the ball and almost falls over!

Oh well.

The others have got the right idea.

The rest of the boys are all out to impress Ardiles. They might not have seen him play but you can sure as hell bet their fathers have reliably informed them of the great man's talent from his days at White Hart Lane.

Occasionally Ardiles will call Hazard over to pass on something he's spotted in the game.

I'm quite pleased I managed to nutmeg a 10-year-old with a sweet pass to a forward right in front of Ardiles. I shouldn't be pleased about that though should I?

I'm 39!

The session ends after about 90 minutes and having seen enough, Ardiles heads off for another pressing engagement.

He'll be back at 2pm for a question-and-answer session with the kids and to pose for more photos with a replica FA Cup and then a 'mini World Cup' tournament.

Meanwhile, Hazard's banter goes into overdrive.

"Can I get some water please?" demands one boy. "No you can't," says the Sunderland-born 51-year-old with a quick wink at me.

Hazard shares his time coaching youngsters with his other job which nowadays is driving a Black Cab around London. "I hate it," he groans.

His passion is clearly coaching football.

"Right who's going to buy me a burger?" he jokes.

LEARNING CURVE: Star Sports Editor Alan Scott takes part in the coaching session at Sawbridgeworth Town Football Club (HSP0780041)

His fellow coach has finally bought him said burger and chips and he tells the kids: "I'm only eating this burger so you know that this is what you mustn't eat when you're professional footballers or otherwise you'll end up like me," he tells them before pointing to his belly.

Hazard was an excellent player in his pomp. At Spurs he even kept Ardiles on the bench for the 1984 UEFA Cup final second leg, while he will always be remembered fondly at Stamford Bridge, his other footballing home.

Another '80s Spurs star, Paul Price, attended one of the sessions, while Ardiles can turn to the likes of Graham Roberts, Marc Falco, John Lacey and Steve Sedgely among others when he needs help to coach the kids.

Sam Langdale, one of the organisers of the Ossie Ardiles Soccer School, has his theory of why this personable soccer school works so well. "This generation of footballers are the last of the 'real people'. Just look at the Premiership stars today? Many are not approachable."

Hazard then cheekily asks me to run Langdale into Harlow as they need to order pictures of the youngsters with Ossie for souvenirs for the youngster's time at the camp.

I'm happy to oblige. You can't turn down an ex-Spurs player if you're a fan can you?

My legs are still stiff from the football. But at least I've learnt a bit about playing 'The Ossie Way'.

But the visitors went back in front when Piers Wixon scrambled the ball home after Mark Taylor's cross from the left caused disarray in the Abbey box on 72 minutes.

The Hawks put the result beyond doubt with Wixon's second on 81 minutes.

Getro Kilapi's great through ball fed the in-form striker and he showed tremendous composure to beat Abbey defender Matt Attard and then slot the ball across the keeper and into the bottom right corner.

Steve Cawley's injury-time effort for Abbey struck the bar and bounced clear but Harlow deserved the three points.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "It was important we kept the momentum going. It was a really good three points. Jack Haverson had an excellent game. He was solid from start to finish."

Rams keep up title pressure

THE necessary drive was shown by Harlow as they marked their return to league action with a win at Sudbury.

In triumphing and gaining a bonus point for getting four tries, the Rams kept up the pressure on leaders Holt.

Harlow captain Shaun Roberts hailed the Rams' display as their best this season. "We have lost a lot there in the past and it was enjoyable to win," he said.

"We worked extremely hard and we always picked up points when we were in there 22.

"We defended fiercely and it was our most complete performance of the season."

Sudbury 16, Harlow 26
RFU London & South East, division three north east

Although Harlow conceded fewer penalties than in previous matches this is still a problem and this prevented them from taking control of Saturday's match much earlier.

Sudbury started well and went 6-0 up through penalties on 8 and 12 minutes.

However, Harlow bounced back shortly after.

A well-rehearsed rolling maul from a line-out resulted in ball carrier Martin Mallia touching down.

Michael Dobson's difficult conversion attempt from out wide hit the upright.

The visitors' pack started to gain good possession and on 35 minutes Rams skipper Roberts powered over for an unconverted try.

Harlow's fluctuating fortunes continued as Sudbury scored a try from a line-out on the stroke of half-time.

The conversion was kicked and Harlow trailed 13-10 at the break.

The visitors restored their lead early in the second half.

An incisive attack from the Rams' backs resulted in centre Luke Bowering touching down an unconverted try.

On 46 minutes, Denzil Crafton went off with a shoulder injury and was replaced at number eight by the experienced Paul Eynon.

Six minutes later, Harlow went down to 14 when Mallia was sin-binned following repeat infringements in the rucks.

Sudbury kicked a penalty to go 16-15 ahead, but Harlow did not concede again with 14 or when they returned to a full complement.

The Rams attacked strongly before Dobson kicked a penalty to put the Essex side two points ahead.

It was too tight to call, but the pressure was relieved when prop Danny Stonehouse powered over for an unconverted try.

Dobson then kicked a 79th-minute penalty to wrap up the scoring.

HARLOW: Hills, Mackie, L. Bowering, Heapy, Kotze (Milne 64), Dobson, Harron, Roze, Mallia, Stonehouse (Cunningham 76) Twiner, Hawkins, Roberts, M. Bowering, Crafton (Eynon 46).

Boss' eyed!

Freak injury rules out French keeper

A FREAK eye injury robbed Harlow Town of towering goalkeeper Bert Bossu for Saturday's win at Waltham Abbey, writes ALAN SCOTT.

Bossu picked up an eye infection after a piece of black material used on the state-of-the-art 3G artificial pitches at Passmores School - where Hawks train - flew into one of his eyes during a training session.

But Harlow boss Danny Chapman expects the 6ft 7ins Frenchman to be available for this weekend's home match against Heybridge Swifts in the Ryman League, division one north.

The former Aberdeen custodian underwent a course of antibiotic eye drops all week to clear up the infection, but was unable to wear his contact lenses so could not play in goal at Capershotts.

Rookie keeper Michael Dumoulin filled in as an emergency stopper for Hawks and proved a capable understudy.

Chapman explained: "One of the black bits of rubber went into Bert's eye.

"He managed to get it out but caught an infection. His eye was virtually closed.

"He was unlucky. It won't be a regular occurrence. It was a freak accident. We asked Michael to come in and he did an excellent job. I thank him for that."

Meanwhile, Chapman has refuted claims that he said striker Piers Wixon and James Bunn cannot play together.

He said: "They are both hold-up players, but that's not to say they can't play together.

"They have shown in the last few games that they can play together.

"If I did not think they could play together I wouldn't play them together. I think they have both been excellent in the last three or four games."

Wixon has now scored seven goals in his last nine games.

Chapman continued: "James and Piers have great football knowledge. They make up for any pace they lack by the way they work off each other.

"When Piers first came to the club he was not at his best.

"People were not sure about him. I knew he needed a run of games and every game he is getting better and better and better. He is a threat inside and outside the box. James has lost two stone in weight. I'm really pleased for him."

Harlow are looking to bring in a defender from Wingate & Finchley to replace Lee Gledhill who has left the club for family reasons.

SATURDAY'S Ryman League division one home match against Heybridge Swifts kick-starts a tough week for Hawks.

It will also be the first of six home games in an 18-day period for Harlow Town.

On Tuesday, Danny Chapman's side host title-chasing Grays

Athletic.

Then the following weekend, Hawks are at home to Ryman premier division Lowestoft Town in the final qualifying round of the FA Trophy.

Harlow entertain Heybridge looking for a repeat of their 2-1 Essex Senior Cup win in October.

The Hawks boss hopes his side can now go on a run and climb the table.

Harlow are presently 9th in division one north.

"We are only 10 points from the top. We have still got to play everyone in the top 10. The aim is to get promoted," he said.

Abbey days as Hawks avoid cup hangover

THE curse of the FA Trophy did not strike this time as an industrious Harlow Town overcame a potential banana skin in the shape of a Waltham Abbey side containing two ex-Hawks. Managed by ex-Harlow Town reserve manager Paul Wickenden and assisted by his father, 1980s Harlow favourite Ray Wickenden, Abbey were a thorn in Hawks' side last season.

And coming off the back of the excellent FA Trophy win over Lewes, Hawks fans wondered which Harlow side would turn up for Saturday's Ryman division one north match.

Luckily it was the side that won convincingly at title-chasing Leiston rather than the out-of-sorts variety which surrendered at Cheshunt 19 days ago.

The surprise for Harlow was the absence of giant goalkeeper Bert Bossu (eye injury). He was replaced by rookie stopper Michael Dumoulin.

Mitchell and Louis Bristow, Abbey gave their opponents too much respect in the first half.

Harlow were on top for large spells but went in at the break only 1-0 up after failing to turn their possession into goals.
